

Careline Lanolin Cream

Careline Lanolin Cream is produced by Careline Australia Pty Ltd. It is composed by Australia's fine quality lanolin, shark squalene and natural vitamins.

Shark squalene is extracted from the liver of the shark which lives in the 1,000- metre deep sea. Through further researches, the scientists have discovered that shark squalene also widely exists in the human body with different parts containing different quantity of shark squalene. There is a large amount of shark squalene in the subcutaneous fat of the human body. When a human being is in his/her teens, there is the largest amount of shark squalene in the body, the body's function is in its best conditions and the skins are the finest and most smooth.

The shark squalene is mixed with Australia's fine quality lanolin and natural Vitamin E. Long - time use of shark squalene serial health products of Careline Australian may make your skins bright and smooth and keep your adolescence for long.
